UREEN WINS LEAGUE PRESIDENCY

League Assembly Will Feature Campus Styles

Co-Eds Will Model Own Clothes At Show March 26

The Women's League is trying to do something different for its next assembly. Knowing that girls on any campus like to talk about and look at clothes, the assembly committee had an inspiration and thought a style show would be the thing for March 26.

This is to be something different in style shows. It is known that the majority of the girls on this campus are well-dressed and have good taste in choosing clothes. Therefore there is no need to import expensive and extravagant clothes from an outside source. It is better to look around the campus and take our choice. The committee just said "Why not?" and consequently the clothes shown will be chosen and modeled by girls on campus. It should give some satisfaction to find that one's clothes are admired by others.

There is a drawback however. The committee alone cannot choose all the clothes to be shown. Every one of the girls probably has in mind right now a certain sport dress, formal, suit, coat; date dress or tennis shorts that she thinks is just the thing and that the girl who owns it wears to perfection. That is the outfit wanted in the style show.

Ideas about favorite clothes should be written down, the name of the owner listed, the kind of clothes: date dress, formal, suit; coat, and the outfit described. Paper should be left in the box provided in the Dean of Women's office or given to one of the members of the committee.

Those girls are: Elsin Goodrich, Julia Snell, and Shirley Vollmar. Both Shirley and Julia are in the Goodison Residence and the girls in that dormitory may leave their suggestions with them. Before this paper is out a girl from King Residence will have been contacted to collect suggestions there. Suggestions should be given to these people some time within the next week. The committee will contact them and with the help of some faculty women will select those which will appear in the show.

Bach Festival To Be Held On March 29

Michigan Normal's choir, Professor Frederick Alexander conducting, will present its annual Bach Festival on Friday, March 29 at 8:00 P. M. in Pease Auditorium.

According to many music authorities, the Normal choir has become more expert each year in its rendition of numbers by the immortal Johann Sebastian Bach, and this year's concert promises to be the finest in the choir's long history.

As in former years the concert will be introduced by guest high school choirs, who sing as a prelude several Bach chorales and other works contemporaneous with Bach.

All College Dance Tomorrow Night

Presenting the first college dance of the semester, the social committee announces a thirty-five cent favorite for tomorrow evening from 9:00 to 12:00. Herb Salomonson, favorite of Ypsilanti students at the Friday night affairs, has been engaged to furnish the music.

Ed Poly, member of the social committee, will be chairman of the affair; and because of the fact that this is the last chance of students to attend one of the all-college dances, it is expected to be well attended. Admission will be 35 cents.

This dance and the Pi Delta Theta dance Saturday evening will be the only two approved parties this week end.

"Why Finland Fights," Coffee Hour Subject

Dr. Fagerstrom Will Speak To Men Today

Dr. Simon E. Fagerstrom of the Social Science Department will talk on "Why Finland Fights" at the second Men's Union Coffee Hour this afternoon at four o'clock in the men's lounge of Charles McKenny Hall.

John Herron, chairman of the coffee hour, announced Tuesday that those who enjoyed Dr. Fagerstrom's talk on "Scandinavian Neutrality" at the Faculty Chat on Monday should not hesitate to attend the Coffee Hour as the subject of the talk is entirely different and covers different material.

The usual much appreciated coffee and doughnuts will be served after the talk. Patricia Baker of Ypsilanti, and Marion Sibley of Pontiac, both sophomores, will pour.

John Bugas, member of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Detroit, was announced as the Coffee Hour speaker for March 21. Mr. Bugas will talk about the interesting features of the Bureau of Investigation.

Muriel Sondeen Is Elected Vice-President As 557 Vote

Dorothy Merrick Gains Office Of Secretary; Kathryn Zedick Elected Treasurer

Helen Ureen, Jackson, was elected president of the Women's League as 557 co-eds voted for officers, advisory board, executive board, and social committee members at the annual election yesterday. Muriel Sondeen, Whitehall, received the vice-presidency; Dorothy Merrick, Crystal Falls, the office of secretary; and Kathryn Zedick, Pontiac, is the new treasurer.

Tabulators worked until after eleven last night counting votes and checking over the ballots to determine the final results. Phyllis Nelson, executive board member, was in charge of the election day proceedings and with a sigh of relief submitted the final results after a full day's work at the polls and tabulation.

The co-eds picked the following students to serve on the advisory board: freshmen— Alice Dunham, Royal Oak; Doris Koppin, Detroit; upperclassmen — Margaret Ellis, Mt. Clemens; Betty Adams, Ferndale; Helen Artley, Monroe.

Executive board members elected were Maxine Addy, Dundee; Opal Brazee, Clayton; Jane Comstock, Ypsilanti; Marian Kempf, Imlay City; Margaret MacGregor, Pontiac; Arlyne Phillips, Detroit; Betty May Outley, Detroit; Betty Pillsbury, Ypsilanti; Evelyn Rice, Mt. Clemens; Mary Esther Ross, Ypsilanti.

Social committee candidates who were successful were Jean Harding, Detroit; and Julia Snell, Monroe.

Candidates were nominated by the Women's League Executive Board two weeks ago and addressed the girls at the League assembly last Tuesday. A reception for all candidates was held in McKenny Hall Tuesday evening in order that all girls might meet the office seekers.

All four office winners are members of the Stoics, Muriel Sondeen, the newly elected vice-president is the president of the society. Miss Ureen will replace Jean Morden as president of the League.

Herb Ritz Will Play At Swirl

Sophomore Dance Will Be March 29

The Soph-Swirl, promising to be bigger and better this year, is rapidly taking shape under the hands of the committee in charge. A novelty in decoration, a superlative in favors, and a "find" in bands is tending to make the slogan "It Tops the Hop" more of a reality day by day.

The orchestra committee, under the chairmanship of Barney Dyer, has been extremely fortunate in securing a band of the caliber which they have. Herb Ritz is the swingmaster, and he and his twelve piece band will provide the music for those lucky enough to secure a ticket for the end-of-March dance.

The decorations for the party have been decided, but it is not permissable at this time to disclose them to the students. Also the favor has been secured, but this too must remain a secret and must not be fathomed until the night of March 29. However, there is no secret about the tickets, and they go on sale next Monday morning, March 11, in McKenny Hall. On Monday, only sophomores will be able to buy the pasteboards, which they are urged to do before the hordes of upperclassmen get their chance on Tuesday. The price of the ticket is $1.50 this year, but the favor alone is worth that much, and coupled with the decorations, and something new in orchestras the price of the ticket will be well spent.

Ralph Chapman Frosh President

Jack Kahal Elected To Executive Board

Ralph Chapman, Mt. Clemens, was elected president of the freshman class at its first meeting of the second semester in Welch Hall auditorium last Thursday afternoon.

Other officers elected were Betty Jackson, vice-president; Roland Langerman, secretary; Bill Hopps, treasurer.

Ralph Chapman replaced Jack Ross, who served as freshman class leader since his election to that position last fall. Chapman is also a member of the yearling basketball team. He is a brother of Robert Chapman, a senior on the campus.

In addition to the electing of officers, the men of the first year class got together and selected Jack Kahal to represent them on the Men's Union Executive Board.

DIRECTORY SUPPLEMENT TO BE DISTRIBUTED TOMORROW

It is an unpleasant experience to look up that blonde's name in the student directory, only to find that it is not there. It is still a more exasperating experience to try to argue an angry matron into giving you the new address of one of her former roomers.

No directories will be issued without presentation of student activity cards.

Gus Howard At Union Assembly

Campus Product Returns To Entertain Men

The "Men of Michigan Normal" were entertained at another ringingly successful Men's Union assembly last Tuesday morning by Gus Howard, class of 1927, eminent master of ceremonies at Northwood Inn in Detroit. Mr. Howard put on a good show for the boys and was received by them in such a way as to make any entertainer happy.

The assembly was opened by Walt Qualmann, new Men's Union president, who read a few announcements to the men. He then introduced Dean James M. Brown, who, true to form, first scolded the men and then praised them. The basketball team, for beating Wayne, and the track team, for winning the lion's share of the recent Michigan State College Relay Carnival were given ovations of appreciation from the assembled students. Mr. Brown turned the meeting back to Qualmann, who in turn introduced Gus Howard.

With a song, a "Confucius Say," and an old-time vaudeville routine, Mr. Howard got down to the hilarious business of entertaining. He gave an imitation of Sonja Henie which was well received, and then went into a spring dance fairly fluttering with balloons and vails and a few acrobatic attempts. While singing his next number, Dr. McCulloch came in and he was greeted by an "It's o.k. Doc. Come on in. It's all free." Gus also told of Dean Brown who starts shaking hands with a person when he's still two blocks away.

After several more attempts to perform a couple of acrobatics, Gus settled into a higher strata of things and played "Indian Love Call" on his violin. In the middle of this he broke into "Over There" and "Shuffled off to Buffalo" across the stage. He was encored and came back on the stage to render his own version of "Oh Johnny, Oh." With this, Gus Howard finished his program, and made his grand exit amid the shouts and cheers of the assembled multitude.

Policy governing communications submitted for publication in these columns:

In general such communications should be of a constructive nature and should represent a sincere and well considered opinion. Each must be signed by the writer. Personal controversies are cleary out of place. The College has a number of Student and Faculty committees and administrative officers ready to attend to appropriate items and suggestions submitted to them. Obviously matters should be submitted to them directly to insure prompt consideration. Such procedure makes for efficiency and cooperation.

Intolerance

In a recent article by Russell Quinn in Liberty, a magazine of religious freedom, a plea for tolerance is made. Mr. Quinn pleas for respect for the rights of minority groups, upon which the principles of our democratic government are founded. "The case against intolerance in America is very practical," he states; and goes on to explain that our nation is still composed of the good and bad elements of the Old World, thus creating more minority elements than any one division.

The figures and ideas advanced by Mr. Quinn make one realize that the minority elements in this country must be respected. To do violence to another; and the props of our democracy would be knocked out from under us.

Perhaps the basis of a sound peace is based upon heterogeneity of peoples. If the European nations of today possessesd less national spirit, there would probably would be no strife. It can hardly be called a national spirit that insures safety for all sects and racial groups, it goes further than that—it is an international spirit.

One of the dangers of a new country lie in its growing old and the melting pot cooling off; for then the minority groups are fewer and the chances of intolerance greater. Americanism is not yet an inheritance, it is still an acquisition.

Debaters To Meet U. of D. Today

Contest Opened To All Interested

The men's debate team of the University of Detroit will arrive here this afternoon for an intercollegiate debate in Room 3, McKenny Hall at 7:30. The Michigan State Normal team that will oppose the Detroit team are Philip Frank and Glyone R. Mahaffy.

Professor Harry T. Wood, coach of men's debate, announced that all students and faculty are invited to attend. This is the first time in several years that the University of Detroit has debated against Michigan State Normal.

Phi Delta Pi Spring Plow Will Be Held Again

The much awaited news as to the when and wherefore of the Phi Delta Pi Spring Plow, annual "definitely" informal invitational spring dance, was released this week with the announcement of Bob Klein as chairman and the date, April 19, Friday following spring vacation.

Following its inauguration last spring of something different in the way of a greek-letter dance, the theme of "hicks only" will again hold forth in the second annual Spring Plow. Suitable attire again will have to be absolutely "hickish", as one would dress a century ago. 'Dog-patch", the scene of the down-to-earth dance will be the ballroom of McKenny Hall according to present plans.

With plans moving very rapidly, a floor show of some of the more reknown talent, as brothers Ed Poly, John Grant, and Whitey Hlad, of the fraternity will add even more variety to the already original dance. Pledges are now working on a search for a couple stage-coaches to supply would-be taxi service for guests. As was the custom established last year, a novel award will be given for the most original, hickishly attired couple.

Students Start Flying In C. A. A. Training Course

Students of Aeronautics of Michigan Normal have been flying for about three weeks, it was announced by Prof. Joseph McCulloch, director of aviation activities here, Tuesday afternoon. One of the students has completed enough work for a solo.

The average hours in the air of the twenty students of this city are about six or eight, but some have attained ten hours of winged time. The completed course will include from 35 to 50 hours in the air and 72 hours of ground school work.

Students have completed work in Meteorology, Civil Air Regulations, and History of Aviation; and in about a week will have completed a course in aeronautical navigation from Dr. Erikson. The next course in ground school work will be the Study of Engines from Professor Wilcox in the science department.

The students have lately moved their flying base from Ann Arbor airport to the Ypsilanti airport and so far no accidents have been reported from either place. Mr. McCulloch said that some of the fellows had used skis on their planes when the snow was too deep to permit use of wheels.

Motion pictures on the History of Aviation may be introduced as as part of the course it was indicated. It will be a three reel sound picture depicting the high spots of aviation, and may be open to others who are interested besides the students of aviation.

Lenten Speaker Here On Campus

Rev. O. C. Hendrickson Delivers Evening Lectures

The Reverend O. C. Hendrickson, who is the speaker for the Union Lenten Preaching Mission which is being held every evening from March 3 to 17 at the First Baptist Church, will discuss "Life from the Balcony" at the First Methodist Church Sunday evening, March 10.

In addition to his ministerial duties, the Reverend Hendrickson is a writer and a lecturer. His writing has been chiefly concerned with religion, but he has devoted considerable time lecturing on Mark Twain, whose life and works he has studied quite thoroughly.

Rev. Hendrickson

A native of Illinois, he attended high school there, was graduated from Shurtleff College, Alton, Illinois, and received his B. D. degree from the Colgate-Rochester Divinity School in Rochester, New York.

At the Friday evening meeting Mr. Hendrickson will discuss "Religion versus the Laboratory", a discussion intended to be of special interest to students. Students are urged to watch bulletin boards for announcements of further meetings which will be held on the campus.

Mr. Hendrickson spoke at Starkweather Hall yesterday afternoon on "Science and Religion—Enemy or Friend."

Office Aspirants Speak At Assembly

Giving women students of Michigan State Normal College a chance to see the candidates for the election held yesterday, the Women's League held an assembly Tuesday, March 5 in Pease Auditorium. Elsin Goodrich, assembly chairman, opened the assembly with a few introductory remarks on the purpose of the meeting. She then introduced Phyllis Nelson, who called forth Dorothy Merrick and Geraldine James for a two-piano number.

Miss Nelson introduced the candidates for the various offices of the Advisory and Executive Boards and the offices of secretary, treasurer, and vice president of the Women's League.

Asking for one hundred per cent support from her classmates in voting, Jean Schuman asked the freshmen to do their part in the election. Similar messages were given by Patty Baker to the sophomore women, Marian Sark to the juniors, and Evelyn Crandall to the seniors.

The retiring "queen" of the Women's League, Jean Morden, introduced the candidates for the presidency of the organization: Helen Ureen, Loraine Peterson, and Margaret Briskey, each of whom addressed the assembly.

Miss Ureen spoke on "Learning for Living" and brought out three points: 1, the importance of learning to meet strangers; 2, handling one's own expenses; and 3, reading intelligently, as examples of "learning for living."

Loraine Peterson then delivered a short talk on "Being Your Own Self". One must look out for artificialities and conceit, Miss Peterson said.

Friendship was the topic of Margaret Briskey's talk, which terminated the program. Faith, loyalty and depth were qualities of friendship which she stressed.

HURONS IN CENTRAL INTER-COLLEGIATES

Hurons Star In Relay Meet

Gaynier Leaps 12-8 To Capture First In Pole Vault

Winning eight first places, the Michigan Normal track team easily dominated the annual State Relay Carnival at East Lansing last Saturday.

Whitey Hlad continued his rule over college hurdlers in the state by winning the high and low hurdles in record times. In winning the 75-yard high hurdles, Whitey set a new carnival mark and tied the field house record.

Hlad

Os Gaynier pulled the surprise of the meet by vaulting 12 ft. 8 in. to easily win the event. In reaching that height Os leaped 8 inches higher than his previous record. Competing in his last year of varsity athletics, Os demonstrated that he was out to show that he can really vault. In winning the state title, he maintained his reputation for coming through in the tougher meets. Last year he placed in the Central Inter-collegiates.

Gaynier

Huron runners took first in the mile relay, the two mile relay, medley, and fresh man two mile. The two mile relay was a thriller with the Huron squad of Brzezinski, Zemper, Grindle, and Quinn winning over State. Grindle, running the third leg, evened up the ten-yard gap that his opponent held at the start and passed him to hand the baton to Quinn, who went on to win.

The two mile relay team lowered its previous time which was good enough to take first in the Illinois relays the week before. With four men who can run their half mile legs in the vicinity of two minutes and two men who can run it below that time, the Michigan Normal two mile team is within striking distance of the American Collegiate record.

Dave Conway set a new record in winning the 75 yard dash and a new freshman dash prospect, Don Jones, placed second in the frosh sprint. Arnold Cooperman took second in the high jump and cross-country captain Bob Lee ran a 9:41 two mile to place second in that event behind Frey of Michigan State.

Sterling Paris, hurdler, sprinter and quarter-miler, won four track shoe charms by placing in both hurdle events and running on two winning relay teams. The freshmen followed up the example of the varsity by running off with the frosh two mile relay in record time.

W. A. A. Delegates Attend Confab

Misses Forker, Jacobs Represent College

The two delegates from the Women's Athletic Association, Barbara Forker and Bernice Jacobs, who attended the convention of the Athletic Federation of College Women in Ann Arbor the past week-end with their advisor, Miss Margaret Brewster, report a most interesting and worthwhile meeting. Three girls, Barbara Neary, Mary Bigger and Eleanor Lowell, attended unofficially.

Eight other colleges, Albion, Hope, Alma, Hillsdale; Wayne University, Kalamazoo, Michigan State and the University of Michigan sent representatives.

The meetings took the form of round-table discussions with the delegates speaking about methods of arousing interest in W. A. A., types of recreation including mixed recreation, award systems and leadership.

Dr. Margaret Bell, National president of the American Physical Education Association, spoke after the luncheon on Saturday. She stressed among other things, the part W. A. A.'s play in fostering interest in sports which would carry-over into adult life. Another point brought out was the interest the national government has shown in recreational areas and the introduction of athletic programs in C. C. C. camps.

The last meeting was a summary during which time each college stated briefly what it had gained from the conference. Miss Marie Hartwig, National Secretary of A. F. C. W. outlined the general policies of the organization. Two trends mentioned were the abandonment of complicated point systems and the giving of expensive awards. Greater recognition for participation rather than for membership on winning teams was recommended.

As the W. A. A. has reorganized its award system in keeping with these policies, much help and encouragement was obtained from these meetings. Many new ideas were discussed which they hope to use in promoting a larger and more effective program to reach more women students on the campus.

NORMAL NEWS SCOOPS ALL DETROIT PAPERS

The Normal College News scooped all Detroit papers in announcing that Michigan Normal track squad was the star of the State Relays held in East Lansing last Saturday.

The Detroit sports writers were aware of the fact that there was a meet but assumed that Wayne would monopolize the meet and were too disappointed after the competition to change their previous opinions. Perhaps they wrote the meet up before it happened and did not change the original write-ups.

However, they were not aware that Michigan Normal overshadowed all opponents and could have and would have licked State and Wayne combined.

Hopes Of Victory In Meet Rest On Running Strength

Whitey Hlad Is Outstanding Favorite To Cop High Hurdles; Distance Runners Strong

The Michigan Normal track squad will journey to East Lansing Saturday intent on doing their best in one of the most important track meets of the indoor season—the Central Intercollegiate championships.

Fortified with plenty of running strength, the Hurons have also gleaned a little hope in the field events after Os Gaynier's victory in the State Relays last Saturday. However, Milton Kosley, no. 1 pole vaulter, will be out of service and Arnold Cooperman, high jumper, has an injured leg.

Whitey Hlad is being counted on to maintain his supremacy over college hurdlers in this section. He has already defeated the best in this state and took the measure of Butler's best, considered an outstanding hurdler for the Middle West.

Captain Grindle will be out to gain a victory or a place in the 880. Grindle has been running in fine form. In the last two meets Leroy has broken two minutes in the half mile and ran under Rosenkrantz's Waterman gym record recently. Quarter milers are four deep with Gildenstein, Kagan, Clark, or Paris. Paris will probably be entered in the hurdles as well as the 440. Clark and Conway are the likely candidates for victory in the dashes.

The distance runs are well under control with a quartet of men who can run well from the 880 to the two mile. Tommy Quinn with a 1:56 half mile to his credit will probably run in the two mile. Joe Brzezinski, who beat Tom Quinn earlier in the season to set a new mile record, is the likely choice for the mile but can run a real fast half mile. Duane Zemper will run in the mile and seems to be regaining his old time championship form with each meet. Bob Lee will be entered in the two mile and can be assured of a place in that event if he keeps up the caliber of running that he has been turning in lately.

With Gaynier in the pole vault will probably be Les Grafton and Harold Stein.

Dr. Osborn Author Of Chemistry Article

Dr. Gerald Osborn, head of Western State College chemistry department who left the science department here last June, is co-author with Werner E. Bachmann, University of Michigan, of an article appearing in the January number of "The Journal of Organic Chemistry."

The article, entitled "The Rate of Dissociation of Penta Aryl Ethanes," consists of eleven pages based on their experiments in the field of organic chemistry performed in the University of Michigan chemistry laboratory.

Certain new organic compounds were prepared and highly purified in the study. It was discovered that when these chemicals were dissolved in certain solvents, at a temperature approaching that of boiling water, the compounds broke down into "free radicals."

The purpose or the "free radicals" was to absorb iodine, and in this way the rate of iodine absorption was determined quantitatively. "In this way," explains Dr. Osborn, "we arrived at the stability of these compounds."

Senior Class Holds Meeting

Appropriation Plans Discussed

Nothing new was decided at the first senior class meeting of the semester last Monday afternoon in Welch Hall auditorium. Committees gave reports similar to those previously delivered.

The discussions as to what should be done with the funds left at the end of the year was carried on but left on the table where it was at the previous meeting. Dr. Clarence Loesell, member of the City Council, spoke to the group, telling them the reaction of the club groups in town who opposed the erection of a college sign on the grass plot by the water tower.

The main suggestions forwarded included the appropriation for the sign, a fund to go towards the purchase of an organ for Pease auditorium, and a loan fund. These were the suggestions drawn up by the senior advisory board. Other proposals were submitted from the floor. Carlton Kissner made a plea for rehabiliation of the band.

The dance committee was alloted funds for the senior dance; and a discussion as to the type of dance wanted by the class members followed.

College Orators Compete In Meet

Miss Jessup, W. C. Oliver In State Meet

W. C. Oliver, sophomore, and Betty Jessup, senior, journeyed to Central State Teachers College at Mt. Pleasant last Friday to compete in the annual State Oratorical contests of the Michigan Intercollegiate Speech League. The contest was the thirty-third annual for women and the forty-third annual for men.

Both speakers, who won the college orator titles here last December 12, represented the college in a commendable fashion. W. C. Oliver placed fourth in the final contest; first place having been awarded to Whitfield Connor from Wayne University, though formerly of Michigan Normal, second place to Benjamin Vander Kooi of Calvin College, and third place to Wiliam Henning of Albion.

Presiding over the final contests for women in the afternoon at 3:00 and for men in the evening at 8:00 was Robert Runyon, president of Michigan Intercollegiate Speech League. Mr. Runyon is from Wayne University. Judges of the affair were from the many colleges having entrees.

Medals to the first, second, and third place winners in both men's and women's divisions were awarded by Dr. Frederick McKay from this institution. Dr. McKay is director of the Speech League. It is interesting to note that just thirty-six years ago Dr. McKay won first place in the State Contest and was representing Michigan State Normal College.

Sweden Is 100 Per Cent For Finland Claims Dr. Fagerstrom At Faculty Chat

According to Dr. Simon E. Fagerstrom, who spoke on the question of "Scandinavian Neutrality" at the Faculty Chat Monday, March 4, the sentiment of Sweden is 100 per cent on the side of the Finns; but Sweden can do no more than supply resources to aid the neighboring country in its present conflict with Russia. If Sweden sent her army to Finland, there would be great probability of an attack from the south on Sweden itself.

Sweden is not ready to go to war, said Dr. Fagerstrom, because for 130 years she has been involved in no conflicts. Finland, on the other hand, has had a long history of struggles. Originally the Finns came from Asia, said Dr. Fagerstrom. Part of the migrating tribe became lost while others went farther on until stopped by the Swedes. At that time the Russians weren't well organized and the Finnish people were allowed to remain where the Swedes had stopped them, and were later conquered by the Swedish who inhabited the region as far as the Black Sea. For eight centuries the Finns have been a part of Sweden. Their culture is entirely different from that of Russia, and that is why they are fighting.

In regard to the Finnish and Swedish cultures, he pointed out that the national anthem of Sweden was written in Finland by a Finn. "Some of the finest poetry of Sweden", he said, "was written in Finland."

Sweden made Finland an independent duchy 300 years ago, continued Dr. Fagerstrom. "They understood democracy and proceeded to establish one." Then, when Napoleon was causing turmoil in Europe, the Russian czar decided to get control of the Gulf of Finland. It was Charles XII, last of the Vikings, who led in a successful defeat of the Russian army. "He did that", explained Dr. Fagerstrom, "because Peter the Great was trying to found a city at the head of the Gulf, too close to Sweden." Later, when a weak king ruled, the Russians secured a fortress and finally got into Finland. Today Stalin is trying to round out the boundaries as they were before, insisting that Finland is actually a part of Russia.

"The Finns are fighting because they have nothing in common with Russian civilization or culture." The main difference between the Finnish and Russian cultures, explained the speaker, is that "in Finland the state exists for the individual, while in Russia the individual exists for the state."

In Dr. Fagerstrom's opinion, if the League of Nations had preserved the set-up created after the World War, the council table would have been effective, because the Scandinavians subscribed whole heartedly to the scheme of the League. "These Scandinavian countries have a fine culture," said Dr. Fagerstrom, "a fairly democratic government, and an efficient army." They have a strong sentiment for the Finns but if they do not remain neutral, they fear invasion by Hitler through Denmark and into southern Sweden. Sweden has the finest iron ore in the world, which would prove valuable to either Russia or Germany.

The Scandinavian countries feel that if they get involved in this war they will become just a pawn on a chessboard. Therefore, according to Dr. Fagerstrom, it is to their best interest to remain neutral.

In conclusion he read a Swedish poem which struck the optimistic note that "justice will triumph." That is the general hope of the small Scandinavian countries.

At the next Faculty Chat, Monday, March 18, Mr. Frederick Alexander, of the music department, will discuss the Bach concert.

ZETA CHI SIGMA LEADS ALL FRATERNITIES IN SCHOLARSHIP

Zeta Chi Sigma, Alpha Chapter, was founded on the Michigan Normal campus on December 3, 1928, and was incorporated on June 15, 1931. There were eight charter members, one of whom was Dr. Willard Reninger, a member of the English faculty here for many years. Dr. Reninger was the fraternity patron until 1934 when ne was replaced by Dr. Clarence Loesell, who still holds this position.

Zeta Chi Sigma has always stressed scholarship, morality, and sportsmanship. For the last several years, as well as at present, Zeta Chi Sigma has had the highest scholastic average among the fraternities and also ranks well above the all-campus average. Athletically, Zeta Chi Sigma has always been a keen competitor and has always been near the top.

In social affairs the Zeta Chi Spring Cruise is rated highly among dances sponsored by private organizations. Closed parties, picnics, and outings comprise the rest of their social activities. Through participation in Homecoming, Christmas Sing, and the Spring Sing, Zeta Chi Sigma contributes greatly to the college spirit of good sportsmanship and good will. To keep n touch with its 150 alumni members Zeta Chi Sigma publishes for them a monthly bulletin which informs them of all major campus and fraternity activities.

An outstanding figure on the campus and a permanent resident at the Zeta Chi house is Bruno, the fraternity mascot. Bruno is a pedigreed St. Bernard dog.

Besides Dr. Loesell, patron, the faculty members are Prof. E. W. Waugh, Dr. Carl Erikson, and Prof. J. F. Barnhill. Other honorary members are Mr. Alex Nulan of Ypsilanti and Mr. Harold Koch of Dearborn.

Zeta Chi Sigma members are well represented in all campus organizations. They have leaders in the Men's Union, Senior Class, Kappa Delta Pi, Chemistry, Mathamatics; Aurora, and International Relations clubs.

The officers of Zeta Chi Sigma are: Don Marshall, President; Clyde Proctor, Vice-president; James Quigley, Secretary; and Dennis Lund, Treasurer.

Fashion Designs Here On Exhibit

Work Of N. Y. School In Art Gallery

The costume design class of the Michigan State Normal has secured an exhibit of student's work from the Traphagen School of Fashion, New York, N. Y. The exhibit has been open to the public in the Art Galleries second floor of the Administration building since March 4, and will continue until March 18.

The exhibit gives an accurate and revealing picture of the work done in this famous school. There are some eighty or ninety mounted subjects consisting of pen and ink drawings, illustrations, fashion layouts, black and white and color fashion drawings and costume designs.

The showing demonstrates how modern costumes are derived from those of other lands and ages. It exemplifies the way in which inspiration is obtained and originality achieved through study of the tastes and fashion of the past, a method employed by great designers the world over.
